

The TemPositions Group of Companies Acquires Certain Assets of Vintage Personnel, Inc.

NEW YORK, December 1, 2008 – Affiliates of the TemPositions Group of Companies, a 46-year-old award-winning staffing firm and one of largest privately held staffing firms in the New York tri-state market, have acquired certain assets of Vintage Personnel, Inc., a Forest Hills-based firm specializing in administrative staffing for local businesses and governmental agencies. The announcement was made today by James A. Essey, president and CEO of The TemPositions Group of Companies.

As part of the agreement, key internal staff members from Vintage Personnel will remain at the Company's Forest Hills location, and TemPositions' veteran Tameka Monroe will be joining the office as Operations Supervisor.

The combined client roster represents a wide-array of businesses, from Fortune 500s to emerging companies with specialized needs.

"With 70 years of combined experience providing staffing to New York City businesses, we're poised to service our collective clients better than ever," said Essey. "Adding a Forest Hills location will enable us to better meet the needs of our growing customer base outside of Manhattan. It's a win-win situation for everyone involved."

"I am excited to be spearheading this new operation," added Tameka Monroe. "It will allow us to grow our recruiting efforts, and will enable us to introduce our cutting-edge business tools to a new roster of clients. We look forward to a relationship that allows us to continue to grow and innovate."

TemPositions plans to immediately roll out its suite of online business tools to Vintage Personnel's clients and temporary employees. The sophisticated staffing management technology tools have received numerous industry accolades for innovation, including in-depth profiles in both Inc. and American Executive magazines.
